On the Other Side (Encounters with Antagonists) Information (Please Read):

Compelling Beasts Blog focuses on antagonists, antiheroes, and paranormal creatures. On the Other Side lets readers get to know the villain or antagonist in your book.

Use the template below for your On the Other Side features. There are two options. You can either write a paragraph or two about your antagonist, or you can fill out a character interview speaking as your antagonist. If you like, you can combine the two.

Please keep the formatting in this file, but feel free to embed your purchase and author links. Posts can be pasted into the body of an email or attached. If attaching a file, please name it authorname-ontheotherside-yourblogdate

If you would like to include book covers (up to 3) and/or an author photo, please do not embed them in the file. Send them as separate attachments. Due to copyright issues, please do not include quotes from books/movies/music that are not your own, photos or images other than your book cover, teasers you have rights to, and/or author photo. Please do not include links to uploaded copies of works that are not your own. If such photos, quotes, or links are included, they will be deleted from the post.

Do feel free to include or embed links to your website, social networks, and purchase pages.

I no longer run contests or giveaways on my blog. If you have a contest on your own website or blog, feel free to include a link to it, but contests on my blog itself will no longer be posted. This includes contest codes.

It's helpful if you return the form to me at least 5 days before your scheduled guest blog date, but if you need more time, I'm flexible.

Thank you very much for being a guest!
